

THE UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO

Bernadette Park

Dept. of Psychology
U. of Colorado, Boulder

Implicit Roles and the Resolution of Work-Family Conflicts

Although women have made marked inroads into professional positions, they continue to experience unequal work-family outcomes relative to men. Park will present data suggesting continued strong internalization of cultural associations pairing women with parenting and men with the professional world. How these associations potentially affect “choices” to resolve conflicting work-family demands, both for others and for the self, will also be discussed.

When:

Thursday, April 9
4:30 - 6:00pm

Where:

Social Sciences
Room 122
1126 E. 59th St.

social psychology program
donald w. fiske distinguished lecture